Check Register Money + Addition & Subtraction

It is important to remember that you never write a check unless you have put enough money in your account to pay the check. Along with a checkbook, a bank includes a checking account record form called a Check Register. The form helps you to keep track of the money you deposit and the money you spend, including and the checks you write.

Check Register

Check Number	Date	Description of Transaction	(-) Payment	(+) Deposit	Balance
1076		Balance in account			$24.00
		DEPOSIT		$24.00	$48.00

Single-Item Prices Money + Operations

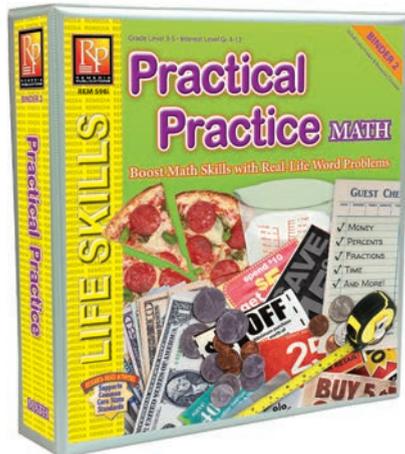

Stores often sell multiples of an item for one price. To find the best buy, figure the cost of the single item.

Example:

STORE A	STORE B
4 bars cost $3.00	2 bars cost $1.60
$$3.00 \div 4 = \0.75	$$1.60 \div 2 = \0.80
Cost per bar is $0.75	Cost per bar is $0.80

Figure the cost of a single item. Then, circle the letter of the best buy.

a) 3 bottles $3.06 b) 1 box $4.50
 c) 5 bottles $9.25 d) 2 boxes $9.00
 e) 3 cans $1.05 f) one dozen for $3.96
 g) 1 jar $2.25 h) 3 for $1.11
 i) 10 jars $3.98 j) 3 tubes $6.75
 k) 10 jars $5.67 l) 5 tubes $12.00
 m) 1 jar $1.20 n) 5 jars $7.95
 o) 1 jar $9.45 p) 1 jar $1.45

- Invoices, Bills, & Forms

Being able to read and understand newspapers, instructions, schedules, e-mails, menus, labels, and more is an important part of our everyday lives. Many students need specific instruction and lots of practice to understand, interpret, and use what they have read in these formats.

From reading a newspaper for the weather report to reading a flight schedule to find what time a plane lands, students will be immersed in plenty of realistic reading opportunities. Each real-life reading activity is followed by comprehension questions to help reinforce what students have read. As well, each category has writing activities that will give students plenty of practical application with writing for a specific purpose, like writing an advice column, classified ad, e-mail, blog, and more.

Both binders are organized by sections, and include PDF Downloads of the binders contents for printing copies as needed. 166-168 pages each.

Angles

The measure of $\angle OEF$ is 105° . $\angle OEF$ is an obtuse angle. An obtuse angle measures between 90° and 180° .

Please note: The obtuse $\angle OEF$ can be obtused to a reflexion of 255° .

$\angle OEF$ is a straight angle. A straight angle measures exactly 180° .

Drawing a 90° angle:

1. Using a straight edge, draw one side.
2. Place the center at the midpoint of the first side. Make a mark at 90° .
3. Draw from the vertex through the mark.

LANGUAGE DEVELOPMENT SERIES

Expressive Exercises for Developing Language Skills

GRADE LEVEL 4-6 CCSS LEVEL ELA 4-5

IDIOMS & PROVERBS

“HOLD YOUR HORSES!” Do your students need help with idioms? Well, let’s not “beat around the bush,” many students do. We don’t mean to be “back seat drivers” but we want to help you “get the ball rolling.” “In a nutshell,” this unit is sure to help your students’ writing and conversation become more colorful. Also terrific for ESL because idioms cannot be translated literally.

SIMILES & METAPHORS

Show your students the many way similes and metaphors can be used to enrich written and oral language! Activities include identifying similes vs. metaphors, creating original phrases, using them in sentences, understanding what they mean when used as comparisons, and more!

HOMOGRAPHS & HETERONYMS

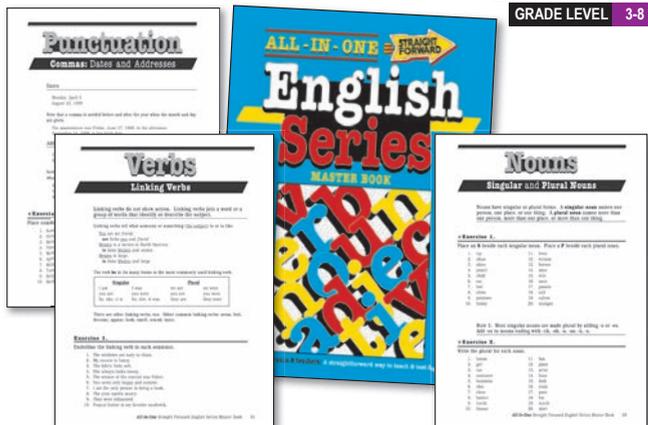

Stimulate awareness of the multiple meanings a single word can have and how pronunciation changes the meaning of like words. Students will get plenty of practice identifying and using homographs and heteronyms.
